

COLUMBIA PLAYS MIDDLEBURY 17-0, BUT WEAKENS TOWARD FINISH

BLUE AND WHITE RUSHES TO FRONT

Scores All Her Points in the First Three Periods of Play.

KOPPISCH PLAYS WELL Visitors Push Lion From Own Goal to Touchdown in Final Period.

Columbia struck a winning blow and downed Middlebury, 17 to 0, yesterday afternoon at South Field. In the first three periods the Blue and White made her score. In the last Middlebury took advantage of mediocre football to force the Lion from within the shadow of the visitors' goal post down the field for a touchdown.

The Lion piled up ten first downs against two in the first half, but during the second half Middlebury registered six first downs, most of which came in the final period, when the touchdown was scored. Columbia made but two in this period.

Capt. Koppisch of the Morningside outfit scored his team's two touchdowns. Bob Burt, the quarterback, plumped through the losers' line time and again, often for gains averaging almost ten yards. Canary tackled the Middlebury back for losses by breaking through the visitors' forward wall with regularity. Ashley was the bright spot of the Middlebury attack and was responsible for practically all of the ground gaining done by his team. In the punting game he also made an excellent showing.

As soon as Roderick had run William Koppisch back to his own 43 yard line Columbia started down the field and lost no time making two first downs in line plunges by Canary, Burt and Roderick. Roderick dashed through the right tackle on the next play for a run to Middlebury's 16 yard line. After three thrusts at the line, which netted only a gain of a yard, Roderick kicked a field goal from the 23 yard line, giving the Blue and White three points.

Columbia Penalized.
After kicking off to Middlebury's 20 yard line Columbia was penalized 25 yards. Following a couple of unsuccessful line stabs and a forward pass Williams kicked to Columbia 23 yard line. Koppisch then eight yards on a poor pass and Roderick punted out of bounds on Middlebury's 20 yard line. Columbia tried a couple of forward passes, Roderick to Koppisch, for an advance to Middlebury's 20 yard line. With several thrusts at the line Columbia reached the 5 yard line, where the Vermonters stiffened and held for downs as the period ended.

Middlebury punted out of danger to the Columbia 35 yard line and Roderick ran the oval back six yards. Here Canary started a smashing attack and advanced to the 5 yard mark on repeated gains by Healy and Burt. Koppisch slid through right tackle for a yard and Roderick made the count Columbia 10, Middlebury 9.

An inside kick by Williams, following Gehrig's kickoff to Middlebury's 27 yard line, put the ball on Columbia's 7 yard line. Middlebury's forward wall showed no holes, Roderick punted to midfield. Middlebury went down to the locals' 18 yard line and the half ended with the pignik on Columbia's 11 yard line.

Roderick sent the ball out of danger by lifting it to his own 40 yard line and Middlebury went back to the locals' 15 yard line on a forward pass and a Columbia penalty.

Within striking distance, Middlebury resorted to a little forward passing. One was intercepted by Roderick, who dashed thirty-four yards and a punt by Burt was followed by a long run by Koppisch from his own 47 yard line for a touchdown, making the count 16 to 9 in favor of the Blue and White. Roderick added the extra point by the usual placement method.

Columbia had another chance to score when Koppisch covered a Middlebury fumble on the 44 yard line following Gehrig's kickoff. Columbia was penalized five yards for offside play, but Roderick made up the loss on the next play and, with Burt and Roderick making consistent gains, the pignik was in the local's possession only twelve yards from a score when the quarter ended.

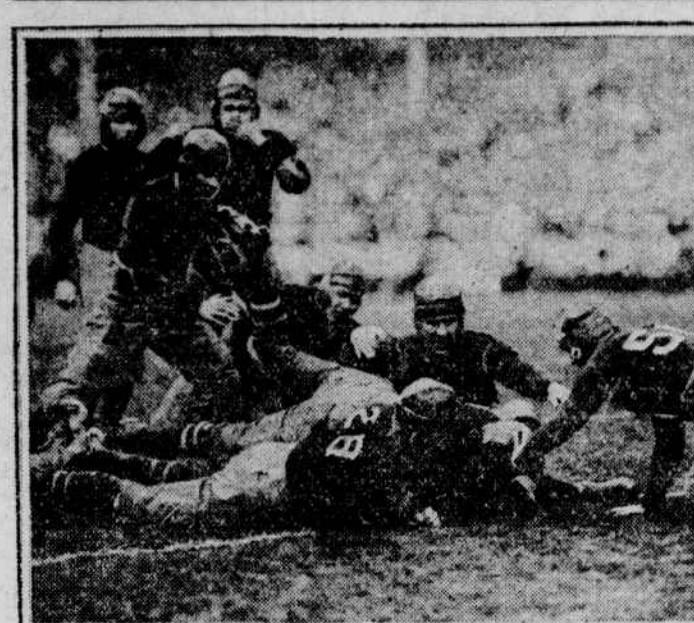

Vermonters Brace.
After advancing to the 6 yard line, the Vermonters' line again was equal to the situation and the Blue and White lost offside on the 11 yard line. Middlebury out of bounds on his own 4 yard line and a Columbia forward pass was intercepted on the 22 yard line. Here the visitors started to go down the field with a sustained attack.

Columbia was penalized for offside play and Williams and Ashley made fifteen yards on four plays. Canary punted through the visitors' line to the opposing back for a three yard loss. A forward pass by Ashley advanced the pignik to the 35 yard line and Ashley made a couple more yards, finally gliding through the Columbia line, three yards, for a touchdown. Ashley's attempt to add the extra point by a placement kick was unsuccessful, Russell kicked the boot.

Columbia made an attempt to score on a kick from the 27 yard line, when little time remained. As the visitors broke through a forward pass was thrown instead. It grounded and the game ended shortly after.

The lineup:
Columbia (19). Position, Middlebury (9). Backs: Left tackle.....Brownson; Left guard.....Brownson; Right guard.....Brownson; Right tackle.....Brownson; Quarterback.....Brownson; Fullback.....Brownson; Halfback.....Brownson; Linebacker.....Brownson; Defensive back.....Brownson; Punter.....Brownson.

Some Exciting Moments in Dartmouth-Cornell Game at Polo Grounds

RAMSEY MAKING FIRST TOUCHDOWN.

CAPTAIN KAW STAR IN ITHACA VICTORY

Continued from First Page.

For another failure. Before the half was over he tried two more, one from the 43 yard line and one from the 46.

An exchange of kicks followed Neidlinger's second failure and Dartmouth, in possession of the ball, resorted to an aerial attack. Buckley earned the first. The second was completed, Mills to Hatch, for first down on Cornell's 28 yard line. But when the Green men came back to earth they couldn't score and Neidlinger's tie couldn't help them.

After a bit Dartmouth got the ball again and a forward pass, Calder to Lynch, from Dartmouth's 25 yard line was completed for a gain of about twenty-five yards. Immediately Dartmouth tried again and immediately up stepped Edward Kaw to capture it. Cornell now had the ball on its own forty-seven yard line. The Red Sox decided to try the aerials. A pass from Kaw to Gouinlock netted a point twenty-five yards and was called down at Dartmouth's 26-yard line. Another forward failed, after which Pann made five yards. On the next play Kaw passed successfully to Buckley, who stood on Dartmouth's 15-yard line as the half ended.

A Third for Cornell.
The nearest thing to a score in the third quarter was Hanson's failure to score a placement only seconds before the close of the period. On the first play of the first quarter Dartmouth tossed a long forward to the 41-yard line, where who should be waiting for the irrepressible Kaw, or of course he caught it. A charge by Kaw and two by Ramsey brought the ball to Dartmouth's 21-yard line. George Pann made the next first down all by his own 32 yard line. He was called down at Dartmouth's 26-yard line. Another forward failed, after which Pann made five yards. On the next play Kaw passed successfully to Buckley, who stood on Dartmouth's 15-yard line as the half ended.

Dartmouth waited until the score stood 10 to 0 in favor of Cornell before really threatening to score by rushing the ball. Calder took the kickoff and ran it back thirty-five yards to the 46 yard line. A forward to Lynch netted a gain of about twenty-five yards and brought it to Cornell's 26 yard line. Lee made two yards. Calder tossed a forward pass, Gouinlock grounded it. He tried another, which Kaw and two Cornell men smothered on their own 4 yard line. Calder tried still a third, a pass that sailed across the goal line, straight to the waiting Cornell line, and also to go straight over George Pann and Edward Kaw, and Burke never had a chance.

Dartmouth Misses a Chance.
The grounded forward pass behind the goal was a touchback, and as the teams came out to resume battle at the 20 yard line, where an Ithaca fell on it. There was another exchange of kicks and Cornell had the ball on Dartmouth's 45 yard line, from which marker Hanson kicked his placement. Hanson was hurt shortly afterward and was removed, which gave Sundstrom a chance to try a placement. Hanson's kick was missed. Dartmouth kicked as soon as the ball was put in play and the whistle blew before the teams could swing into action. That victory rested where it belonged must have been proved to the satisfaction of every one of the estimated 5,000 who saw the game. Dartmouth had a game and a fighting team that dug in just a little harder when Cornell threatened to make a runaway game of the contest in the first quarter. And it was no runaway. Cornell sports and Kaw decided the contest, but Cornell broke through a forward pass was thrown instead. It grounded and the game ended shortly after.

The lineup:
Columbia (19). Position, Middlebury (9). Backs: Left tackle.....Brownson; Left guard.....Brownson; Right guard.....Brownson; Right tackle.....Brownson; Quarterback.....Brownson; Fullback.....Brownson; Halfback.....Brownson; Linebacker.....Brownson; Defensive back.....Brownson; Punter.....Brownson.

SCORE BY PERIOD.
Columbia..... 3 7 0-10
Middlebury..... 0 0 0-0
Total..... 3 7 0-10

W. & J. GOBBLES UP WABASH ELEVEN
Presidents Account for 32 Points, While Hoosiers Make But Six.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 11.—The W. & J. football team celebrated Armistice Day this afternoon by defeating Wabash College of Crawfordsville, Ind., in the first intercollegiate game of the year for the Presidents, 32 to 6.

The victors garnered five touchdowns and annexed the additional point on two occasions. Wabash made its only touchdown in the fourth period, when Aul scooped up a fumble and sprinted fifty-seven yards ahead of the entire pack. Previous to this effort the Hoosiers had garnered but two first downs and never had a chance. The Indiana failed to make the point after touchdown. The Presidents earned all their scores, getting one touchdown in the first period, two in the second and two in the final one.

Spectacular plays prevailed throughout most of the game on the part of the Presidents. Erickson turned in several brilliant runs in the first half, straight to the end zone. He carried the ball through in all kinds of football. His most spectacular feat came in the final period. He intercepted a forward pass and sprinted forty-five yards for a score. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.

The lineup:
Wabash (6). Position, Wabash (6). Backs: Left tackle.....Staples; Left guard.....Staples; Right guard.....Staples; Right tackle.....Staples; Quarterback.....Staples; Fullback.....Staples; Halfback.....Staples; Linebacker.....Staples; Defensive back.....Staples; Punter.....Staples.

W. & J. GOBBLES UP WABASH ELEVEN
Presidents Account for 32 Points, While Hoosiers Make But Six.

WILLIAMS WINS, 22-7 FROM WESLEYAN FOE

WILLIAMS GOING THROUGH DARTMOUTH LINE

UNTIMELY FUMBLE SAVES WEST POINT

Continued from First Page.

27 yard line during the second period after a march of fifty-two yards marked by two substantial gains by Paul Castner around end, and a 22 yard dash down the side line by Layden, who almost broke clear.

"Time Out" Frequent.
It was terrific battling from the start and time out had to be called frequently for players temporarily "knocked out" on both sides. If anything, play grew more aggressive in the second half, and while tackling was clean it was fought every minute and no effort spared, no risk avoided.

The second half showed Notre Dame the superior eleven by a clear margin. Army as a rule was kept on the defensive. Notre Dame began opening up its attack and was able to sustain it. The Hoosiers started the second half with a rush. After Castner had run the kick-off back thirty yards to the 25 yard line, three deep plays followed. The Hoosiers started the second half with a rush. After Castner had run the kick-off back thirty yards to the 25 yard line, three deep plays followed.

Most of Victor's Points Result From Placement and Field Goals.
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 11.—Although each side registered only one touchdown, Williams defeated Wesleyan, 22 to 7, here today. Three goals from placement and two goals from the field availed the Purple's total. Mondo's kicking featured the contest. He booted placement goals for Williams from the 48, 42 and 47 yard lines.

Williams disposed of Wesleyan without opening up its attack. Line plays, used with deceptive formations and with delayed passes, were responsible for most of the gains. Williams clearly outplayed its foe, gathering fourteen first downs to its opponent's five. Wesleyan's only score resulted from a forward pass in the second period, Smith romping 40 yards across the home team's goal line.

Field Goals Fall.
The midwesterners outstrutted Army six first downs to one in the first half and gained 127 yards to 45. Castner made two attempts at field goal, one in each half, once from the 25 yard line and again 54 yards from the Army goal, but on each occasion his attempt was hurried and his drop kick rolled along the ground instead of rising. Garbick made two tries at goal from place, Point's 15 yard line. Castner and Crowley made it first down on the 4 yard line in two deceptive thrusts outside the tackle. The place kick carried a yard, and then came the distressing fumble that spoiled Notre Dame's day.

Williams started the scoring in the first period when Mondo kicked his first placement goal from the 45 yard line. Shortly afterward Mallon kicked a goal from the field from the 25 yard line. Wesleyan's score came at the outset of the second period and Robison added the extra point with a drop kick. Williams then came back strong and carried the ball near enough the opposing goal during the remainder of the period for Mondo to boot two more placement goals.

Williams out loose with a line plunging attack which Wesleyan could not stop in the third period. Mallon finally carrying the ball over after an advance of half the length of the field. Mallon added the additional point on a drop kick. In the last quarter he carried the ball the greater part of the time and the Army offensive seldom had a chance to attack. Lawrence, who recovered two fumbles and who figured prominently in some important tackles, was the conspicuous figure for Army late in the game.

The lineup:
Williams (22). Position, Williams (22). Backs: Left tackle.....King; Left guard.....Smith; Right guard.....Smith; Right tackle.....Smith; Quarterback.....Smith; Fullback.....Smith; Halfback.....Smith; Linebacker.....Smith; Defensive back.....Smith; Punter.....Smith.

Pitt Gains With Short Passes.
Pitt continually had Penn worried with its short forward passes, double passes and end and tackle runs, with Hewitt in an emergency role to duck the very center of the play and Hewitt did not do the damage of last year in tearing the Penn line apart. But Anderson and Flanagan proved a tireless pair of half-backs, who were always good for gains.

At the start of the third period Coach Warner put Colonna in at Hewitt's fullback position, but he had been laid out from the play and Hewitt was rushed back in the game. Graf played at right guard for Penn in Papworth's place and put up a remarkable game until he was injured late in the battle and had to be assisted to the gymnasium.

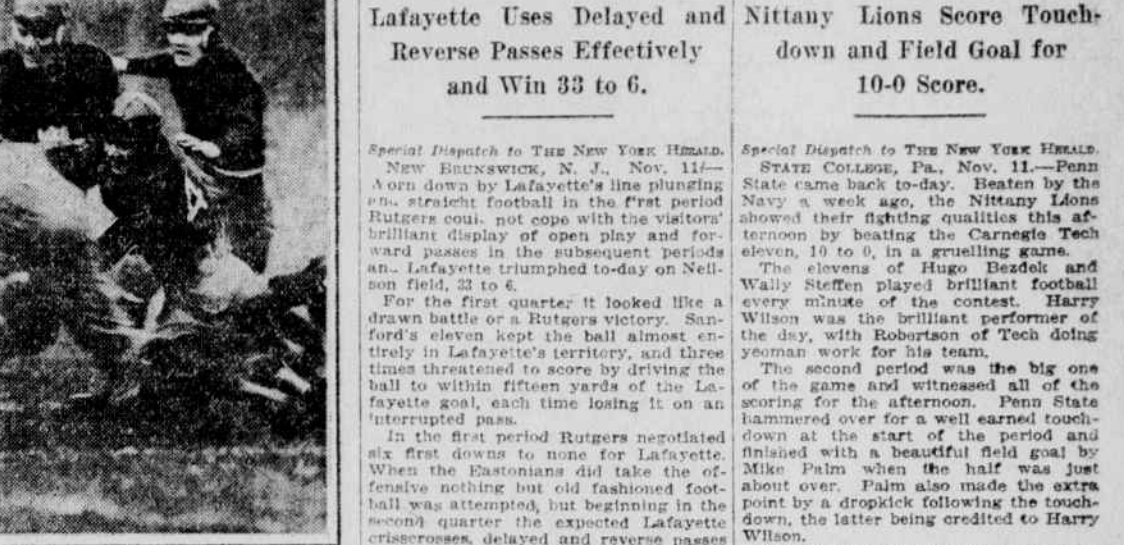

Penn Freshmen Defeat Cornell by Score of 19 to 0
Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania freshmen defeated the Cornell freshmen in their annual game here today by a score of 19 to 0, scoring three touchdowns and a field goal. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.

The lineup:
Penn Fresh (19). Position, Cornell Fresh (0). Backs: Left tackle.....Smith; Left guard.....Smith; Right guard.....Smith; Right tackle.....Smith; Quarterback.....Smith; Fullback.....Smith; Halfback.....Smith; Linebacker.....Smith; Defensive back.....Smith; Punter.....Smith.

Penn Freshmen Defeat Cornell by Score of 19 to 0
Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania freshmen defeated the Cornell freshmen in their annual game here today by a score of 19 to 0, scoring three touchdowns and a field goal. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.

RUTGERS UNABLE TO SOLVE AERIAL PLAYS

Lafayette Uses Delayed and Reverse Passes Effectively and Win 33 to 6.

RAMSEY OF CORNELL GOING THROUGH DARTMOUTH LINE

UNTIMELY FUMBLE SAVES WEST POINT

Continued from First Page.

27 yard line during the second period after a march of fifty-two yards marked by two substantial gains by Paul Castner around end, and a 22 yard dash down the side line by Layden, who almost broke clear.

"Time Out" Frequent.
It was terrific battling from the start and time out had to be called frequently for players temporarily "knocked out" on both sides. If anything, play grew more aggressive in the second half, and while tackling was clean it was fought every minute and no effort spared, no risk avoided.

The second half showed Notre Dame the superior eleven by a clear margin. Army as a rule was kept on the defensive. Notre Dame began opening up its attack and was able to sustain it. The Hoosiers started the second half with a rush. After Castner had run the kick-off back thirty yards to the 25 yard line, three deep plays followed. The Hoosiers started the second half with a rush. After Castner had run the kick-off back thirty yards to the 25 yard line, three deep plays followed.

Most of Victor's Points Result From Placement and Field Goals.
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 11.—Although each side registered only one touchdown, Williams defeated Wesleyan, 22 to 7, here today. Three goals from placement and two goals from the field availed the Purple's total. Mondo's kicking featured the contest. He booted placement goals for Williams from the 48, 42 and 47 yard lines.

Williams disposed of Wesleyan without opening up its attack. Line plays, used with deceptive formations and with delayed passes, were responsible for most of the gains. Williams clearly outplayed its foe, gathering fourteen first downs to its opponent's five. Wesleyan's only score resulted from a forward pass in the second period, Smith romping 40 yards across the home team's goal line.

Field Goals Fall.
The midwesterners outstrutted Army six first downs to one in the first half and gained 127 yards to 45. Castner made two attempts at field goal, one in each half, once from the 25 yard line and again 54 yards from the Army goal, but on each occasion his attempt was hurried and his drop kick rolled along the ground instead of rising. Garbick made two tries at goal from place, Point's 15 yard line. Castner and Crowley made it first down on the 4 yard line in two deceptive thrusts outside the tackle. The place kick carried a yard, and then came the distressing fumble that spoiled Notre Dame's day.

Williams started the scoring in the first period when Mondo kicked his first placement goal from the 45 yard line. Shortly afterward Mallon kicked a goal from the field from the 25 yard line. Wesleyan's score came at the outset of the second period and Robison added the extra point with a drop kick. Williams then came back strong and carried the ball near enough the opposing goal during the remainder of the period for Mondo to boot two more placement goals.

Williams out loose with a line plunging attack which Wesleyan could not stop in the third period. Mallon finally carrying the ball over after an advance of half the length of the field. Mallon added the additional point on a drop kick. In the last quarter he carried the ball the greater part of the time and the Army offensive seldom had a chance to attack. Lawrence, who recovered two fumbles and who figured prominently in some important tackles, was the conspicuous figure for Army late in the game.

The lineup:
Williams (22). Position, Williams (22). Backs: Left tackle.....King; Left guard.....Smith; Right guard.....Smith; Right tackle.....Smith; Quarterback.....Smith; Fullback.....Smith; Halfback.....Smith; Linebacker.....Smith; Defensive back.....Smith; Punter.....Smith.

Pitt Gains With Short Passes.
Pitt continually had Penn worried with its short forward passes, double passes and end and tackle runs, with Hewitt in an emergency role to duck the very center of the play and Hewitt did not do the damage of last year in tearing the Penn line apart. But Anderson and Flanagan proved a tireless pair of half-backs, who were always good for gains.

At the start of the third period Coach Warner put Colonna in at Hewitt's fullback position, but he had been laid out from the play and Hewitt was rushed back in the game. Graf played at right guard for Penn in Papworth's place and put up a remarkable game until he was injured late in the battle and had to be assisted to the gymnasium.

Penn Freshmen Defeat Cornell by Score of 19 to 0
Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania freshmen defeated the Cornell freshmen in their annual game here today by a score of 19 to 0, scoring three touchdowns and a field goal. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.

The lineup:
Penn Fresh (19). Position, Cornell Fresh (0). Backs: Left tackle.....Smith; Left guard.....Smith; Right guard.....Smith; Right tackle.....Smith; Quarterback.....Smith; Fullback.....Smith; Halfback.....Smith; Linebacker.....Smith; Defensive back.....Smith; Punter.....Smith.

Penn Freshmen Defeat Cornell by Score of 19 to 0
Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania freshmen defeated the Cornell freshmen in their annual game here today by a score of 19 to 0, scoring three touchdowns and a field goal. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.

PENN STATE VICTOR AGAINST CARNEGIE
Lafayette Uses Delayed and Reverse Passes Effectively and Win 33 to 6.

RAMSEY OF CORNELL GOING THROUGH DARTMOUTH LINE

UNTIMELY FUMBLE SAVES WEST POINT

Continued from First Page.

27 yard line during the second period after a march of fifty-two yards marked by two substantial gains by Paul Castner around end, and a 22 yard dash down the side line by Layden, who almost broke clear.

"Time Out" Frequent.
It was terrific battling from the start and time out had to be called frequently for players temporarily "knocked out" on both sides. If anything, play grew more aggressive in the second half, and while tackling was clean it was fought every minute and no effort spared, no risk avoided.

The second half showed Notre Dame the superior eleven by a clear margin. Army as a rule was kept on the defensive. Notre Dame began opening up its attack and was able to sustain it. The Hoosiers started the second half with a rush. After Castner had run the kick-off back thirty yards to the 25 yard line, three deep plays followed. The Hoosiers started the second half with a rush. After Castner had run the kick-off back thirty yards to the 25 yard line, three deep plays followed.

Most of Victor's Points Result From Placement and Field Goals.
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 11.—Although each side registered only one touchdown, Williams defeated Wesleyan, 22 to 7, here today. Three goals from placement and two goals from the field availed the Purple's total. Mondo's kicking featured the contest. He booted placement goals for Williams from the 48, 42 and 47 yard lines.

Williams disposed of Wesleyan without opening up its attack. Line plays, used with deceptive formations and with delayed passes, were responsible for most of the gains. Williams clearly outplayed its foe, gathering fourteen first downs to its opponent's five. Wesleyan's only score resulted from a forward pass in the second period, Smith romping 40 yards across the home team's goal line.

Field Goals Fall.
The midwesterners outstrutted Army six first downs to one in the first half and gained 127 yards to 45. Castner made two attempts at field goal, one in each half, once from the 25 yard line and again 54 yards from the Army goal, but on each occasion his attempt was hurried and his drop kick rolled along the ground instead of rising. Garbick made two tries at goal from place, Point's 15 yard line. Castner and Crowley made it first down on the 4 yard line in two deceptive thrusts outside the tackle. The place kick carried a yard, and then came the distressing fumble that spoiled Notre Dame's day.

Williams started the scoring in the first period when Mondo kicked his first placement goal from the 45 yard line. Shortly afterward Mallon kicked a goal from the field from the 25 yard line. Wesleyan's score came at the outset of the second period and Robison added the extra point with a drop kick. Williams then came back strong and carried the ball near enough the opposing goal during the remainder of the period for Mondo to boot two more placement goals.

Williams out loose with a line plunging attack which Wesleyan could not stop in the third period. Mallon finally carrying the ball over after an advance of half the length of the field. Mallon added the additional point on a drop kick. In the last quarter he carried the ball the greater part of the time and the Army offensive seldom had a chance to attack. Lawrence, who recovered two fumbles and who figured prominently in some important tackles, was the conspicuous figure for Army late in the game.

The lineup:
Williams (22). Position, Williams (22). Backs: Left tackle.....King; Left guard.....Smith; Right guard.....Smith; Right tackle.....Smith; Quarterback.....Smith; Fullback.....Smith; Halfback.....Smith; Linebacker.....Smith; Defensive back.....Smith; Punter.....Smith.

Pitt Gains With Short Passes.
Pitt continually had Penn worried with its short forward passes, double passes and end and tackle runs, with Hewitt in an emergency role to duck the very center of the play and Hewitt did not do the damage of last year in tearing the Penn line apart. But Anderson and Flanagan proved a tireless pair of half-backs, who were always good for gains.

At the start of the third period Coach Warner put Colonna in at Hewitt's fullback position, but he had been laid out from the play and Hewitt was rushed back in the game. Graf played at right guard for Penn in Papworth's place and put up a remarkable game until he was injured late in the battle and had to be assisted to the gymnasium.

Penn Freshmen Defeat Cornell by Score of 19 to 0
Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania freshmen defeated the Cornell freshmen in their annual game here today by a score of 19 to 0, scoring three touchdowns and a field goal. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.

The lineup:
Penn Fresh (19). Position, Cornell Fresh (0). Backs: Left tackle.....Smith; Left guard.....Smith; Right guard.....Smith; Right tackle.....Smith; Quarterback.....Smith; Fullback.....Smith; Halfback.....Smith; Linebacker.....Smith; Defensive back.....Smith; Punter.....Smith.

Penn Freshmen Defeat Cornell by Score of 19 to 0
Special Dispatch to The New York Herald.
ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Pennsylvania freshmen defeated the Cornell freshmen in their annual game here today by a score of 19 to 0, scoring three touchdowns and a field goal. The game was a close one. Wabash was in the game. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown. He was easily the outstanding star of the game, being the only W. & J. man who started the game with a touchdown.